SQUIRE HUGH MCCLAUGHLIN FAMILY HISTORY

Squire Hugh McLaughlin spent his early life in part on Jackson River, Bath County. His wife was Nancy Gwinn, daughter of John Gwinn, Sr. and grand-daughter of John Bradshaw.

Squire Hugh McLaughlin and Hugh McLaughlin (son of John McLaughlin who was in the Revolutionary War) were cousins and were intimately associated when they were young men. They ~~were~~ ^{lived} married about the same time, jointly leased a piece of land on Jackson River, built a cabin and went to housekeeping. There was but one room. This room they divided between them and kept separate establishments. Squire McLaughlin would often tell how an axe, maul, and wedge made up his original business capital, and how his housekeeping affects were carried by his young wife on horse the day they went to themselves in their cabin home on leased land.

Upon the expiration of the lease, early in the 1820's, Squire McLaughlin in the woods on Thomas Creek, and opened up lands that were later held by his son George H. McLaughlin.

After rearing a number of years near Dunmore, Squire McLaughlin located west of Huntersville where he prospered in business. Then he removed to Marline Bottom, where he died in 1870, aged 69 years. Squire McLaughlin was a prominent citizen--a member of the county court, a ruling Elder in the Presbyterian church. He acquired an immense landed estate--one of the most valuable in the county. His influence was largely in favor of economical industry, good morals, and intelligent piety. His business sagacity was phenomenal, and he could see money where most others could not see anything worth looking for.

Not much is known about the parents of the children listed below.

There were two sisters and three brothers in a McLaughlin family in Pocahontas County. In Historical Sketches, pages 319-323, it mentions the two sisters Jane and Nancy and two brothers, John and William. And in another article it mentions Hugh McLaughlin, pages 323-327.

1. William McLaughlin - lived on the head of Jackson River; later settled on Thomas Creek, near Dunmore, WV. He is the father of almost all Dunmore McLaughlins. Married Nancy Wiley around 1825.
2. John McLaughlin - born about 1790, died 1838, married 8 March 1810 to Lucretia "Clarissa" Gregory. Settled on a place later owned by Allen T. Galford at the Mouth of Deer Creek.
- 3. Nancy McLaughlin - born 1779 - died 1849 of nose bleed after crossing a fence. Married 18 Feb. 1805 to Jacob Cassell, Sr. Lived on Greenbrier River at Cassell Ford, 4 miles west of Green Bank, WV. Their daughter Nancy Cassell married her first cousin, Allen T. Galford. See Galford family history. Buried Deer Creek Cem.
- 4. Jane G. McLaughlin - born 1789, Married 31 Oct. 1811 to John Thomas Galford. Her son married Nancy Cassell. See Galford family history.
